Conclusion	216

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness; it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity; it was the season of light, it was the season of Darkness; it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us . . .

—Dickens

The days are long and longer still when we're held inside against our will.
We yearn for the day that is coming slow when they'll open the doors and we're free to go.
But, then there's always that price we must pay
For with the dawn of this longed-for day Comes the end of friendships we've built on the way.

—Cindy Leman

Curiosity
You see it everywhere . . .

. . . at football games will we win?
does it matter?

. . . at the plays and musicals will our friends do well?

. . . in a classroom
where people ask why is it so?

. . . in the face of someone new . . .

. . . will I ever get to know you?

—Penny Arslanian

Once

I thought the world was an orange sunset and life was love and love was you—
But I know better now.
life is pain,
and love can die.

—Lori Wadsworth

Pale moonlight casts wavering shadows
on the garden,
and one crimson rose stands out like fresh spilled blood against grey stone

Vermont Impressions

Sunrise—golden and musical—
Rising grey mist above sturdy pines.
Violet haze over emerald hills.
cold sunshine.
Cool breezes and shivering birches.
warm drizzle of rain.
Soft rustle of swaying maples.
warmer sunshine.
Other sounds of life.
never silence.
Sunset—
rippled pink lace over silver rippled pond, shimmering—
Endless patterns of waves
Like the endless expanse of green hills, rolling . . .
melting . . . into darkness.
—Lori Wadsworth

Cycle of Hope

Reaching out in all directions leaning with comfort against a rope the wind removing all it's protection leaving it with no further hope Sunlight and moonlight pass through the cold turning its color from brown to green a bleak shadow cast across the sky leaving a message yet unseen Life will leave it, or so it'll seem;
clouded by grayness, it stands unnoticed
The white crystals in daylight reflecting a gleam playing with time and disguising strength
Again the roots will reach away feeding continuously off the soil once more sunlight will come its way bringing back all lost hope.

—Paul Griffin

Curiosity

I'd like to hear what you have to say—
Everybody has a mind and their own ideas—
and I'm curious.
How does it feel to be you?
Why do you look that way
at me?
Is it your curiosity
or my imagination?
No, don't turn away—
there must be something to say—
at least to satisfy
my own morbid curiosity.
You must feel some sort of curiosity—
Don't I interest you at all?

—John Parent

Inquest
 Here we are All of us.
 waiting waiting
 All of us.
 You on your side
 Me on mine.
 Where are you going?
 Where have you been?
 What have you done?
 What will you do?
 Where do you live?
 How wealthy?
 How poor?
 What have you got?
 What will you get?
 Why have you got wrinkles?
 Why have you none?

What makes you smile?
 Whose troubles are yours?
 How much money have you got?
 How much money have you got?
 People oh People!
 Hear the questions I ask!—
 Oh, it doesn't matter, because

Here we are
 All of us waiting waiting
 All of us
 You on your side
 Me on mine.
 waiting.
 waiting.

—Sue Steubing

Contrast
 It's hard to walk between faces so ridden with frowns—
 have smiles been outlawed here?
 And just around the corner . . .
 How can so much joy
 be held between four walls?
 It seems as if these happy folk could do their glum counterparts a great deal of good Yet, maybe tomorrow everything will be turned around.
 Yesterday to today was a 180° change,
 and chances are,
 the world will be different tomorrow.

—John Parent

Through the Eyes of This Old
 The park bench a friend for this old.
 He sits in his world
 so alone.
 He watches the children who never age.
 Like his own
 so far away.
 Thinking back, way back when he was young
 . . . All his friends and lovers too . . .
 There's a smile, memories still hold happiness
 And, if nothing else, he has them and that's enough.
 But the world has changed, leaving him out.
 Switches and buttons
 he is unable to control.
 Everything is bigger now, maybe better too.
 Why take so much away, though,
 like his house.
 They've given him a new house with others of his kind.
 His old mansion now replaced by a meaningless highway.
 The world has become too smart for him
 Too vast. Too loud.
 Too selfish.
 He has grown old only to live in loneliness.
 —Bill Tyers

GOOD-BYE MR. CONRAD

Let him above all adopt the attitude of a parent towards his pupils and think of himself as taking the place of those who have committed their children to his charge. He should neither be vicious himself, nor tolerate vice in others. He should be strict without being gloomy, genial without being slack; otherwise the first quality will make him disliked, the second will bring him into contempt. He should have much to say on what is good and honourable; for the more he advises, the less he will punish. He must not be prone to anger, though at the same time he should not ignore faults that need correction; he should be straightforward in his teaching, ready to take trouble, assiduous but not excessively so. He should willingly reply to questions, and should himself question those who do not ask. In praising the compositions of his pupils he should be neither grudging nor effusive; the former causes a distaste for work, the latter complacency. In correcting faults he must not be harsh and certainly not insulting; there are some teachers whose rebukes give the impression of dislike, and this has the effect of discouraging many from study . . . Pupils rightly instructed regard their teacher with affection and respect. And it is scarcely possible to say how much more willingly we imitate those whom we like.

—Quintilian

FACULTY

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. John T. Conrad
Let's go to work.

Mr. George J. Betses
Let's get to class, people.

Mr. David R. McPhelim
When the Senator enters, you will stand and applaud.

GUIDANCE

Mr. Edward W. Balcom
Well, keep bothering me.

Miss Mildred Hehir
Don't worry, I won't let you sink.

Mr. William J. McNamara
Here comes trouble!

Mr. Paul J. Hoar
One has to study the old to understand the new.

Miss Barbara A. Miniuks
You can't get out of your class.

Mr. Richard McCaffrey
Both of your brothers are taller than each other.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. John LeClere
But, are you really meeting the needs of the students?

Mr. Barry T. Bell
Maczikovakossen Kossent Hache Noffa!

Mr. Bernard DiNatale
I've completely lost control of this class!

Mr. Paul L. Finnerty
This is true!

Mr. Richard Harris
O.K. guys, take a seat!

Mr. Kenneth E. Heath
I never would believe that!

Mr. Frederick Place
Are you soft or what?

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Mary Jane MacDonald
Let's get to class, girls!

Mrs. Nancy S. Ovitt
I'm hungry!

ART

Mr. William E. Berry
Listen up, people!

Mrs. Catherine Finnerty Spastic!

BUSINESS

Mrs. Dorothy Sexton
I learned much from my teachers, more from my colleagues, and most from my pupils.

Mrs. Beverly Conway
Do you follow me?

Miss Imelda Riley
Keep your eyes on the copy.

Mr. Dennis Savosik
Sit up straight and put both feet on the floor.

Mr. Robert Kirouac
If there's anythin' . . .

Mrs. Jacqueline Roberts
Don't look down at your keys.

Miss Ida Catalano
Welcome to Miss Catalano's Kiddie Camp.

Mrs. Meg Conant
Will you please turn around.

ENGLISH

Miss Martha Kineen
Thermofaxed . . . , existential . . . , absurdities.

Mr. John Kamal
Back up what you say.

Mrs. Joan Noonan
Kudos! Kudos!

Mr. Fredrick Donovan Alllllright.

Miss Maxine Sherburne
Really, I am the teacher.

Mrs. Marion Cleary
Before I build a wall, I'd like to know who I'm walling in and who I'm walling out.

Mrs. Virginia Cyr
You should get to know Big Bill.

Mrs. Nina Gaspar
Tonight we'll do A . . . B . . .

Mr. Edward Carpenter
Whether you are aware of it or not, the universe is unfolding.

Miss Christine Hansen
Oh, I love it!

Mrs. Rebecca Carosso Perhaps.

Mrs. Alexandra Kroon
You have two choices in life: you can dissolve into the mainstream, or you can be distinct.

Mrs. Christine Hanley
To be is to be related; to see relationships is to know.

Mr. Barry Hazzard
No--not Buzzard--Hazzard.

Mrs. Linda Barnes
Let's tell old theatre stories.

Mrs. Pauline Rothenburg
That's super!

Mr. Joseph Madigan
Upstairs is for thinking, downstairs is for dancing.

Mrs. Mary Donovan
Ladies, gentlemen and others.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Mr. Donald Boucher
Bonjour, kids!

Mr. Edward Rubin
Let's have it quiet!

Mrs. Joanne MacMullen
Too bad there's no "zero" mod this year, bon!

Miss Theresa Pelletier
In the study of a foreign language . . .

Miss Michlyn Scarpitto
Don't be so crass!

Mr. Charles Adams
C'est ca.

Mrs. Joyce Meyer
Debarassez vos pupitres!

Mrs. Marie George
Muy bien! Buenosdías! Tibras en el suelo.

Mrs. Isabel Chesak
Repeat your dialogue.

Mrs. Alla Fedus Gerviss.

MATHEMATICS

Mr. John T. Conrad Jr.
2b or not 2b.

Miss Jane Barbieri Plug it in.

Mr. Richard Bernier
What odds would you give me on that.

Mr. Richard Olson
Aw/zo.

Mr. John A. Ramalho
Education is a "privilege" and a necessity.

Miss Ellen C. Holt
Don't cross the bridge till you come to it.

Miss Judith McLeish
But I can't subtract!

Mr. Sheldon G. Blanchard
I know what your problem is, what about the one in the book?

Mr. Joseph Ford
Don't get bottled up.

Mr. Robert Conway
You follow me?

Miss Mary Ann Cottone

$$x^2ey \cdot \frac{\frac{rr}{x(r-x)}}{\frac{x}{x}} - \frac{12as}{3x(e+y)^2(e-y)^2}$$

Mr. Robert Bradman

How in the world can you get an answer of 4 2/5 nickels?

MUSIC

Mr. Frank Page
I love you but you can't practice right now.

Mr. Robert Thurlow
What a band!

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mr. Wesley Brinkley
All around Robin Hood's barn.

Mr. Thomas Eck
Use the other door.

Miss Joan Nartowt
Awright!

Miss Mary Chambers
... in the big gym.

Miss Sandra Heinecke
Retreat ... Advance ... Lunge

Mr. Gerald Shrock
Jiminy Christmas!

Mr. Bruce Marshall
I'd like to make this pevertically clear!

Mr. Randall Whitehead
Is that right?

READING

Mrs. Catherine Harper
Happiness is reading.

Mrs. Hilda Richardson
Where's the dictionary?

SCIENCE

Mr. R. Daniel Bennett
Hold your horses!

Mr. Michael Tate
Put it in and turn the crank.

Mr. John Jarema
The chalk slipped.

Miss Nancy Gajewski
Ladies, and I use the term loosely . . .

Mrs. Kathleen Skelly
Most things people fail to do are caused by failure to start.

Mr. John Prescott
Now, here is the woofer, here is the tweeter, and down here is the antenna.

Mr. Robert Wadlegger
Ho-o-old the fort!

Mr. Richard Luce
Hi guys!

Mr. Andrew Sorneson
Anything new in the world of science?

Mr. Bernard Queenan
When I went to Ohio State, of course . . .

Mr. Thomas Forsley
Go tickle the blackboard, please.

Mrs. Caroline Kowalak
Gaw-ly!

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. John Dunigan
Who, what, when, where, how.

Mr. Daniel LeClerc
That's really heavy stuff!

Mr. Edward Quinn
Let me say this about that . . .

Miss Sophia Giavis Class . . .

Mr. Frank Turner
This is the first time I've taught in a big city school.

Mr. David T. Kerry
Keep your poise.

Mrs. Eileen K. Fletcher
You are mature young adults.

Mrs. Sarah Madison
History is what the teacher says it is.

Mrs. Dorothy Silver
I know you can do it . . . now come on.

Mr. William Christman
I wasn't planning on talking about that today, but . . .

Mr. John J. MacLaughlan
We'll just get you rolling on this, then close up shop early.

Mr. Bernard Battle
Tow it.

T.V.

Mrs. Sandra Kaktins
There's a definite lack of enthusiasm here.

Mr. Neil Weisbrod
Is this video tape?

STAFF

Mrs. Kathleen MacMillen
Mr. Dixon, please call the office!

Mrs. Mary Giavaras
Yes dear, may I help you?

Mrs. Margaret Griffin
Would you like an appointment? When are your free mods?

Mrs. Eileen Hood
Would the owner of the car with the license plate number . . .

Mrs. Donahue

Mrs. Maureen Perry
Well, do you want me to call your mother?

Mrs. Helen Dutton
If you want to talk, go across the hall.

Mrs. Dorothy Pizarick

Mrs. Nancy Morrell
Do we have a projector free?

Mrs. Gloria Himes

Mrs. Erikson

Cafeteria Staff
I only have one hot dog left.

Custodians
Remember the wastebaskets, girls.

Knut Berge and Norie Ikeda

We were so excited that you were coming this year. A girl from Japan and a boy from Norway—we wondered what you'd be like. What were your thoughts as you prepared to meet us? Adjusting to American life must have been quite an experience. We thank you for sharing yourselves with us and letting us have a glimpse into your ways of life. We hope you both have happy memories of your year in Chelmsford.

IN MEMORIAM

MY FRIEND
(Edward Tighe, Jr.)

Wherever you are
I am with you
And so I shall remain
Friends, forever true

In life in death
Children are we all
But in my eyes
You were never small

The joy you brought
Will never die
But forgive me my friend
If I should cry

For I shall feel you
Through my tears
And remember you
Through the years

And wherever you are
I am with you
I am with you
And so I shall remain
Friends, forever true

From a Friend

Look Inside

I hope that what you see in me will please your specific tastes.
You look at me the way you size up others.
So very curious.
So very skeptical.

Are you worried that I could be better than you?

What do you look for in each person you see:
Another friend?
Someone to use?

Is it the way I dress that shades your views?
Or could it be the length of my hair?

I hope you're curious enough to find out what I'm like inside.
I have a heart and soul
I can feel joy and sorrow.

Look inside yourself
There is your real concern.
Find out what you are,
For people also look at you.

Your specific tastes must be met:
Face too dark or too light;
Hair too long or too short;
Clothes too flashy or too plain,
Too, Too, Too . . .

There are judgements upon judgements but few friendships are made.

by Bill Tyers

The Forgotten

Walking forward onto the stage and seeing a sea of faces,

of eyes staring
in anticipation.
then . . .

nothing.
walking back off the stage
without a word sung or a note played waking in the shame

of my forgetfulness

by Cheryl Whitcomb
